187.9 PRIVILEGES OF THE HOUSE

Mr. THOMAS of California rose to a question of the privileges of the House and submitted the following resolution (H. Res. 519):

Whereas, pursuant to H. Res. 340, the Committee on House Administration was directed to investigate the operation and management of the Office of the Postmaster; and

Whereas, the Committee on House Administration Task Force to Investigate the Operation and Management of the Office of the Postmaster required all Task Force staff to agree in writing, by signing an Agreement of Confidentiality, not to disclose any information relating to the investigation prior to such time as the Task Force has released its final report; and

Whereas, confidential information from the Task Force draft report appeared in the July 10, 1992 and July 11, 1992 issues of The Washington Times and the July 13, 1992 issue of Roll Call; and

Whereas, a Member of the Task Force, in an attempt to influence the contents of the final Task Force report, placed a phone call to a Member not on the Task Force regarding confidential information in the Task Force draft report; and

Whereas, House Rule XLIII (the Code of Official Conduct), Section 1, requires that a "Member, officer, or employee of the House of Representatives shall conduct himself at all times in a manner which shall reflect creditably on the House of Representatives"; Now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives directs the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct to investigate violations of the Agreement of Confidentiality of the Committee on House Administration Task Force to Investigate the Operation and Management of the Office of the Postmaster, and to determine whether the conduct of any Task Force Member who attempted to influence the content of the final Task Force report by calling any Member not on the Task Force regarding confidential information in the Task Force draft report violated House Rule XLIII, the Code of Official Conduct.

The SPEAKER pro tempore, Mrs. SCHROEDER, ruled that the resolution submitted did present a question of the privileges of the House under rule IX.
